HINDUS BEGIN MOVE TO ENTER THIS TERRITORY

Four Held at Station—Recent Decision Upholds Powers of Immigration Officials

Four Hindus turned back to the Orient as contract laborers and four more now held at the federal immigration station on an order of deportation as likely to become public charges, give evidence that the East Indians are beginning to look to Hawaii as a possible "promised land" for their wanderings.

Already denied entrance at many coast points, made the subject of attack in the United States and Canada, the Hindu immigrants who have been crossing the Pacific ocean by the hundreds are getting little encouragement in their efforts to land on the mainland of North America. Moreover, a recent important court decision in the state of Washington is believed by immigration officials to have vastly strengthened their powers in handling the Hindu "invasion."

This decision may have a direct bearing on the case of the four Hindus held by Inspector-in-Charge R. L.
Halsey of the federal station here.
Arriving on the Persia a month ago were four Hindus, who, after examination at the station, were detained on the ground that they give every evidence of becoming public charges if admitted to the United States. They at once appealed to the secretary of labor in Washington and are now at the station awaiting a disposition of their case. Their names are: Brem Singh, Lunder Singh, Lal Singh and Rur Singh.

Decision Regarded as Important

Meanwhile, the decision of the federal judge for the western district of Washington, northern division, has been hailed with joy by immigration officials up and down the coast and the coast newspapers regard it as helping to put up the bars against undesirable aliens. In brief, this decision upholds the broad powers of immigration officials, holding that the courts have no jurisdiction over their acts except to determine whether or not the immigrants asking admittance were given a full and fair examination. Judge Jeremiah Neterer delivered the decision.

Of particular interest now is the fact that the decision upheld the immigration authorities of Seattle in denying admittance to 78 Hindus.
These Hindus alleged that they had previously resided in the Philippines, which would greatly strengthen their case in seeking to enter the United States, but the court, deciding that they had been given a fair examination, refused to allow their petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Neterer's Decision.

In his decision Judge Neterer said:
"Section 20 of the immigration act of February 20, 1907, amended by the act of March 3, 1911, and March 4, 1913, provides: 'That any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of law and as such become public charges for causes existing prior to landing, shall upon the warrant of the secretary of labor be taken into custody and deported to the country whence he came at any time within three years after the date of his entry into the United States.'"

"Section 21 provides: 'That in case the secretary of labor shall be satisfied that an alien has been found in the United States in violation of this act, or that an alien is subject to deportation under the provisions of this act or of any law of the United States he shall cause such alien within the period of three years after landing or entry therein to be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided by Section 20 of this act.'"

"Section 25 provides: 'That in every case where an alien is excluded from admission into the United States under any law or treaty now existing or hereafter made, the decision of the appropriate immigration officers, if adverse to the admission of such alien, shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the secretary of labor.'"

Rests With Officials.

Then the decision itself lays down the following:
"The admission of aliens into the United States is regulated by Congress. The supervision is confined to the department of immigration charged with the enforcement of the laws regulating the admission. The final determination of all the facts with relation to the qualification of aliens to enter the United States or their deportation within the time limit fixed by act of Congress for reasons therein given is entrusted to the proper immigration officers, whose decision is final unless reversed on appeal to the secretary of labor. By the act of Congress these officers are made the sole and exclusive judges of the existence of the facts establishing qualification, and no other tribunal is vested with authority or power by Congress to re-examine and consider the sufficiency of the evidence on which these officers acted.
So long as the officers clothed with this authority act within the limits placed by Congress, courts have no right to interfere. The authority of the immigration officers and the jurisdiction of the courts depend upon power conferred by Congress. It is a matter of legislation. No discretion is vested in the courts. Congress has the right to legislate upon the subject, prescribe rules and fix limits and confer authority, where it deems wise, in legislating upon the subject at hand.
The supreme authority is conferred upon the immigration officers. The jurisdiction of the court is limited to ascertaining whether the petitioners were denied a hearing."

"The decision goes on to say that an examination of the record convinced the judge that the petitioners had been given a full and fair hearing, and Judge Neterer closes this memorable decision as follows:

"A hearing having been accorded, the court is precluded from examination of the issue presented, merely because it is contended that the conclusion of the immigration officers, based upon the testimony presented, was wrong."

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus was thereupon denied.

Some years ago Hindus entered Hawaii 20 or 30 at a time but later the immigration dropped to practically nothing. Not long ago a Hindu brought over three companions, but the immigration officials here were not long in deciding that their entry would violate the law against admitting contract labor, and they were sent back to the Orient.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

When cross, constipated or if feverish give "California Syrup of Figs" then don't worry

Mothers can rest, after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish, and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.
Full directions for babies, children of all ages, and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size.
Hurry back with contentment any other fig syrup—advertisement.
